These violent attacks cause many difficulties to the people and existing structures. More than 200 persons have lost their lives and more than 350 thousand were forced to leave their homes and become refugees.

This attacks still continue, and in spite of the fact that since the beginning human rights, international laws and agreements have been violated, international powers and organizations stay silent. As consequence of this the Turkish State keeps bombarding local villages and targeting civilians.

During this dirty war civilians of different cultures, beliefs, and religion have been attacked and killed, the aim is demographic changes in the region and genocide of local people.

The international powers who took the decision about cease fire are responsible for this genocide of people in Northern and Eastern Syria and they must also take the responsibility to stop these brutal attacks and assure peace in the region.
